Volume 31 Issue 01

Happy New Year and welcome to our first meeting of 2013

(oops! I'm off to a poor start for 2013, I almost forgot about the newsletter, Sorry for the later date)

Our meeting for January 8th 2013 will be held at Halifax Speciality Hardwood in Bedford. There will be a presentation and your opportunity to purchase the wood for you next project.

I'm sure most of you know where Halifax Speciality is but in the event you don't here is the address; 112 Bluewater Rd, Bedford

Important Activities Early in the New Year

As announced to all at our October Meeting we will be moving the location of our regular meetings and the AWA library to the Salvation Army Church, on Pleasant Street in Dartmouth.

As much as our current meeting location at Kent has been favourable, we have had a long standing goal to find a permanent meeting place that provides "accessibility".

The first meeting in the Salvation Army Church will take place for our meeting in February. (Our January meeting will be Halifax Specialty Hardwood). We already have keys and have been instructed on how to access and secure the Salvation Army Church when we want to.

Between now and February, we need to re-locate our library. Tied to that activity is a plan to tidy up the contents of the library, as it is becoming quite stuffed with some older and perhaps outdated material. We hope to undertake this job on a Saturday early in January. This event will be separate from the actual move of the library.

As part of the transition we've also decided to build new cabinets for the library at the Salvation Army Church. We want the new cabinets in place before moving the library contents from Kent.

Some basic preliminary design planning has told us we want two cabinets, and we want them on wheels.

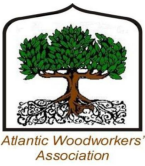

I'm asking you to consider how you might participate in or even lead any of these transition events (library cleanup, construction of new cabinets, and the library move), and let me know if you will by email. Soon after the holiday period we'll firm up dates for each event.

From the cyber world.

Can you imagine 52,829 woodworkers showing 73,175 projects, making 1,873,328 comments, writing 30,962 Blogs, 2,929 reviews and has 42,165 posts to their forum.

Well it's a website called Lumberjocks and can be found here; <http://lumberjocks.com>

No matter what you are making or planning I'm sure you will find an example of it in the Project menu. It's an amazing site for lots of inspiration and a worldwide source of knowledge. There is a forum to ask questions, to provide answers or just to simply say "great work". There are video's to watch and they even offer free classes online. They have challenges and a emagazine as well. They also give away books once in a while.

And if that is not enough scroll down to the bottom of the page to find a Home Refurber area as well as a Gardener area.
